TONE OF OPTIMISM PREVAILS IN DISCUSSION OF THE VICTORY LOAN

Easter Day was well observed at the U. B. church. It began with prayer service at six o'clock, which was very well attended and from which great benefit was derived. There was a well attended Sunday School section at 9:45 followed by the Easter Program which was well rendered.

We wish to thank all those who contributed toward the success of the offering which was more than eight hundred dollars in cash.

GREEN FANCY
BY GEORGE BARR
Mc CUTCHEONAuthor of "GRAUSTARK," "THE HOLLOW OF HER HAND," "THE PRINCE OF GRAUSTARK," ETC.

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I—Thomas K. Barnes, wealthy New Yorker on a walk through New England, is caught in a storm miles from his destination. At a roadside point he meets a girl in the same plight. While they discuss the situation an automobile sent to meet the girl, arrives and Barnes is given a lift to Hart's tavern, while the girl is taken on to her destination, where she tells Barnes is a place called Green Fancy.

CHAPTER II—At the tavern Barnes falls in with a stranded troupe of "barn storming" actors, headed by Lyndon Rushcroft, and becomes interested in them.

CHAPTER III—As the storm grows, Barnes finds himself worrying over the safety of the girl, traveling over the mountain roads in a most dangerous manner. He learns that Green Fancy is something of a house of mystery. Two mounted men leave the tavern in a manner which arouses Barnes' curiosity.

CHAPTER IV—He meets "Miss Thackeray," leading lady of the stranded theatrical troupe, who is actually a chambermaid. That night he is aroused by the bringing of a dying man to the tavern, one of the two who he rode in a short time before. They tell of finding the dead body of the other man. Both had been shot.

CHAPTER V—The wounded man, regaled at the tavern and Barnes is informed he must not leave until after the inquest. O'Dowd and De Soto, guests at Green Fancy, visit the tavern, apparently much mystified over the affair.

CHAPTER VI—Barnes advances Rushcroft money sufficient to release the company from its embarrassing position, thereby becoming its official backer. He visits Green Fancy and in the grounds meets his acquaintance of the night before, finding her a girl of surprising beauty.

CHAPTER VII—She seems not to be recognizing him, and turns away. O'Dowd appears and in a friendly fashion escorts Barnes (who feels he is in trouble) from the grounds.

CHAPTER VIII—Miss Thackeray warns Barnes that a man stopping at the tavern, ostensibly a book agent, had searched his baggage in his absence. O'Dowd comes to the tavern and with Barnes and others goes over the scene of the previous night's shooting. Barnes is invited to dinner at Green Fancy.

CHAPTER IX—His acquaintance of the storm is introduced as Miss Cameron. The makeup of the house party, particularly a man introduced to him as "Loeb," and the number of men servants about the place, somewhat astonishes Barnes.

CHAPTER X—Miss Cameron informs him she is a prisoner in the house, appealing to him for aid and bidding him to secrecy. In conversation with the chauffeur who drives him back to the tavern, Barnes becomes convinced there is a conspiracy of some kind, hatching at Green Fancy.

CHAPTER XI—At breakfast the supposed book agent introduces himself as Sprouse, a government secret agent. Sprouse tells Barnes he is there to watch the party at Green Fancy, describing them as refugees from a country overthrown by the Germans. He asserts that "Miss Cameron" is a relative of the former ruler of the overthrown country and that she or "Loeb" have with them the crown jewels of enormous value, which Sprouse would recover.

CHAPTER XII—Barnes agrees to accompany Sprouse on a nocturnal visit to Green Fancy, Sprouse with the object of securing the jewels and Barnes with the hope of rescuing "Miss Cameron."

CHAPTER XIII—They enter the grounds in safety. Sprouse, concealing his true intentions, evidently on guard. Reaching the house, Barnes sends up by means of a flying rod carried by Sprouse, a note to "Miss Cameron," informing her of their intentions to enter the house. She tries to dissuade them, but Sprouse insists to her room and goes through it on a quest for the crown jewels and state papers.

CHAPTER XIV—Barnes becomes uneasy at Sprouse's long absence and follows him, climbing by means of the flying rod attached to the wall. While talking to "Miss Cameron" at a rooming in the house, Barnes is detected by Sprouse, who has been watching him. He loses his sense of location and they become lost, finally taking refuge in a small shed. "Miss Cameron" explains how she was deceived by the house, and was to be married against her will to the man "Loeb," whom she reveals as a prince of the house to which she belongs. They are surprised in the darkness by O'Dowd.

CHAPTER XV—O'Dowd demands the jewels, which he thinks the fugitives have in their possession, not knowing of Sprouse's enterprise. Convinced neither "Miss Cameron" nor Barnes have them, O'Dowd puts them on the right road to the tavern, where Barnes gives his companion into the care of Miss Thackeray. Next day O'Dowd tells Barnes Sprouse, whom he describes as an expert burglar, got away with the treasure after killing a guard in the house. O'Dowd and "Loeb" leave Green Fancy.

CHAPTER XVI—Barnes tells "Miss Cameron" of Sprouse's treachery and Fanny, the man known as Loeb is her cousin and he reveals her to the house with the object of possessing himself of the jewels, which were in her custody.

CHAPTER XVII—O'Dowd returns and informs Barnes of the identity of "Miss Cameron." She is of royal blood, a princess, Countess Theresa Maria-Batanda.

CHAPTER XVIII—Barnes visits Green Fancy to secure the wardrobe of the countess. He meets Sprouse, who tells him Loeb got away with the treasure, killing the guard and accusing Sprouse of the murder and robbery.

CHAPTER XIX—Barnes and the countess leave Hart's tavern with the actors, and at Crowndale, where they are to appear, Barnes again meets Sprouse.

CHAPTER XX—Sprouse tells Barnes Loeb is in hiding in Crowndale with his mistress, and promises to rob him of the jewels. He does so, delivering the treasure to Barnes, as agreed, at the same time informing him that he would take it from him if he could, at the expiration of one week.

CHAPTER XXI.

The End in Sight.

Barnes, soaring beyond all previous heights of exaltation, ranged dizzily between "front" and "back" at the Grand opera house that evening. He was in the "wings" with her, whispering in her delighted ear; in the dressing-room, listening to her soft words of encouragement to the excited leading lady on the narrow stairs leading up to the stage, assisting her to mount there; and all the time he was dealing the moment when he would awake and find it all a dream.

There was an annoying fly in his thoughts, however. "I love you," she had said simply. "I want more than anything else in all the world to be your wife. But I cannot promise now. I must have time to think, time to—"

"Why should you require more time than I?" he persisted. "What is time to us? Why make wanton waste of it?"

"I know that I cannot find happiness except with you," she replied. "No matter what happens to me, I shall always love you, I shall never forget the joy of this. But—I cannot promise now," she finished gently and kissed him.

Between the second and third acts Tommy Gray rushed back with the box-office statement. The gross was $350. The instant that fact became known to Mr. Rushcroft he informed Barnes that they had a "knockout," a gold mine, and that never in all his career had he known a season to start off so auspiciously as this one.

Three days later Barnes and "Miss Jones" said farewell to the strollers and boarded a day train for New York city. They left the company in a condition of prosperity. The show was averaging two hundred dollars nightly and Mr. Rushcroft was already booking return engagements for the early fall. He was looking forward to a tour of Europe at the close of the war. Barnes' sister, Mrs. Courtney, met them at the Grand Central terminal. "It's now a quarter to five," said Barnes after the greeting and presentation. "Drop me at the Fifth Avenue bank, Edith. I want to leave something in my safety box downstairs. Should be more than five minutes."

He got down from the automobile at Forty-fourth street and shot across the sidewalk into the bank, casting quick, apprehensive glances through the five o'clock crowd on the avenue as he rushed. To his hand he lugged the heavy, weatherbeaten pack. His sister and the countess stared after him in amazement.

Presently he emerged from the bank, still carrying the bag. He was beaming. A certain worried, haggard expression had vanished from his face, and for the first time in eight hours he treated his traveling wardrobe with scorn and indifference.

"Thank God, they're off my mind at last," he cried. "That is the first good, long breath I've had in a week. No, not now. It's a long story and I can't tell it in Fifth Avenue. It would be extremely annoying to have both of you die of heart failure with all these people looking on."

He felt her hand on his arm, and knew that she was looking at him with wide, incredulous eyes, but he faced straight ahead. He was terribly afraid that the girl beside him was preparing to shed tears of joy and relief. He could feel her searching in her jacket pocket for a handkerchief.

Mrs. Courtney was not only curious but apprehensive. She hadn't the faintest idea who Miss Cameron was, nor where her brother had picked her up. But she saw at a glance that she was lovely, and her soul was filled with strange misgivings. She was like all sisters who have pet bachelor brothers. She hoped that poor Tom hadn't gone and made a fool of himself.

The few minutes' conversation she had with the stranger only served to increase her alarm. Miss Cameron's voice and smile—and her eyes!—were positively alluring.

She had had a night letter from Tom that morning in which he said that he

AMERICANISM—ATHLETICS—PATRIOTISM

When we consider that the sporting instinct is inbred in the American it is small wonder that patriotic enthusiasm and endeavor is found in large quantity in a crowd of athletes and sporting men. A Victory Loan speaker visited the wrestling show at Boardman last evening and received such a rousing reception at the hands of the sports assembled there that he fervently hopes that there is as much sporting blood in every citizen of Clearfield County.

WASTING THE TAXPAYER'S MONEY

No, we do not intend to censure any of our officials. Some taxpayer or taxpayers are wasting their own money. When we built the New High school we wisely provided for beautiful surroundings. Several hundred dollars were spent in grading the lawn, seeding it and getting a good sprout of lawn grass. As long as the place was muddy Mr. Taxpayer didn't walk across it for fear of getting his boots muddy but now that a nice sod has been started Mr. Taxpayer insists on beating a path across the corner from the bridge to the rear of the building. Now in addition to the cement walk there is a regular "cowpath" across the lawn. We mentioned this to the school authorities and they tell us that they have been trying to break up the practice. One man whom they apprehended one morning indignantly replied that "he was a taxpayer and had a right to walk across the lawn." Well, in addition to being a taxpayer he is something else which we cannot call him in this column without offending our clerical friends. It is true that the High School lawn belongs to the taxpayers but we believe the majority of the taxpayers do not want a "cowpath" made out of it. The Board of Education will have the hearty support of the citizens if they bring trespass proceedings against the thoughtless and careless people who abuse the beauty spot of our city.

PLANNING THE MEALS

For the housekeeper who "wonders what to have for dinner"—and who doesn't want to waste time, money, or space, a good plan or chart is ever one who follows or makes a wonderful meal planning meal.

The nice thing about a chart is that it is always growing, new dishes being added, various combinations used which keep the interest in it as keen as playing a game of chess.

It is essential that we so plan our meals that we get into a day's work all the needed nourishment to keep heat and rebuild tissue. If one lacks in bodybuilding material, for example, such foods as meat, eggs, and milk, that deficiency may be filled in another meal. We must care that the growing child has plenty of milk, butter, eggs, and green vegetables which contain the growth promoting substances; if these are out of the diet or not supplied in sufficient quantity, the child's growth will be stunted and no matter how carefully the diet may be watched later in life the weak link will show cause trouble.

To know whether your meals are well balanced or not is not a hard thing for an ordinary mind to grasp. It is necessary to put some study into it and it would seem that a mother should feel that it is vitally important. Fuel that keeps our bodies warm comes from sugar and starchy foods with some from fat. The building material is chiefly found in the animal foods such as eggs, milk, meat, cheese, but peas, beans, and lentils supply much some, as well as nuts and combinations of vegetables. Fruits supply acids and alkalies to the body—they are body regulators.

The great advantage of a wide variety of vegetables is that they supply mineral matter from them in various quantities and kinds, these are absolutely necessary for health.

In milk, which approaches more nearly the perfect food, we find all the necessary elements; milk will sustain life although bulk is necessary (obtained from coarse foods) for a balanced diet after childhood.

THE SMITHS WERE THERE BOTH WAYS FROM THE MIDDLE

The time has now arrived for claims as to who really won the war and the great family of Smith promptly puts in its claim. It must be admitted that it presents strong figures to support its claim. Already there have been 51,682 Smiths counted in actual service, with several units yet to hear from. This is more than five times as many men as Gen. Scott had in the army with which he conquered Mexico. It is two and a half times as many men as McDowell had in the battle of Bull Run, and as many as Rosecrans had at Chickamauga. So it will be seen that the Smiths, if bunched together, could have won any of the battles in the world war. They not only greatly outnumbered every other family in the army, but they were a very lively bunch, taken by and large.

The name comes from the word "smite" and was formerly applied to all workers in wood, brass, iron, and stone. That is, they "smote" the material they were fashioning. Thus there used to be "stonesmiths," "woodsmiths," "whitesmiths," and we still have "goldsmiths," "coppersmiths," "silversmiths."

The Smiths lived up to their etymology when they entered the war. They smote the Germans hip and thigh on every field. They held their own in every form of the "spitting" involved. Several were generals, a great number colonels, and enough majors, captains and lieutenants to form a good brigade if put by themselves.

In fact there were enough Smiths in the various departments to have organized and put in the field a new army fully equipped with commanding and subordinate officers, surgeons, dentists, artillery and engineers, signal men, aviators, truck drivers, and hospital attendants.

Great is the name of Smith and many there are who bear it.—National Tribune.
Bates' history of the Civil War records the fact that there were 4133 Smiths in the Union Army, of which 606 were John Smith.

NEW YORK'S 400 MISSING AT CARNEGIE WEDDING

New York, April 22—Margaret Carnegie, richest girl in America, today became the bride of Ensign Roswell Miller, U. S. N. R. F., an officer in the United States navy. They were wedded at the New York home of the bride which is at 91st Street and 5th Avenue. It was attended by only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom. Not a single one of New York's four hundred were invited. About a score were in attendance. Miss Carnegie is the only child of the "Laird of Skibo" and will inherit the entire fortune variously estimated at about six hundred million dollars. Ensign Miller is the son of the late Roswell Miller who previous to his death was Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Chicago, Milwaukee, and St. Paul railway but who as fortunes go was not considered wealthy. was bringing a young lady friend down from the north—and would she meet them at the station and put her up for a couple of days? That was all she knew of the smiling stranger up to the moment she saw her. Immediately after that she knew by intuition a great deal more about her than Tom could have told in volumes of correspondence. She knew, also, that Tom was lost forever!

"Now tell me," said the countess the instant they entered the Courtney apartment. She gripped both of his arms with her firm little hands and looked straight into his eyes, eagerly, hopefully. She had forgotten Mrs. Courtney's presence, she had not taken the time to remove her hat or jacket.

"Let's all sit down," said he. "My knees are unaccountably weak. Come along, Ede. Listen to the romance of my life."

And when the story was finished the countess took his hand in hers and held it to her cool cheek. The tears were still drowning her eyes.

"Oh, you poor dear! Was that why you grew so haggard and pale and hollow-eyed?"

"Fairly," said he with great significance.

"And you had them in your pack all the time? You—"

"I had Sprouse's most solemn word not to touch them for a week. He is the only man I feared. He is the only one who could have—"

"May I use your telephone, Mrs. Courtney?" cried she suddenly. She sprang to her feet, quivering with excitement. "Pray forgive me for being so ill-mannered, but I must call up one of two people at once. They are my friends. You will understand, I am sure."

Barnes was rising the floor nervously when his sister returned after conducting her new guest to the room prepared for her. The countess was at the telephone before the door closed behind her hostess.

"I wish you had been a little more explicit in your telegram, Tom," she said gravely. "If I had known who she was, I wouldn't have put her in that room. Now I shall have to move Aunt Kate back into it tomorrow and give Miss Cameron the big one at the end of the hall." Which goes to prove that Tom's sister was a bit of a snob in her way. "Stop walking like that and come here." She faced him accusingly. "Have you told all there is to tell, Mr.?"

"Can't you see for yourself, Ede, that I'm in love with her? Desperately, horribly, madly in love with her. Don't giggle like that! I couldn't have told you while she was present, could I?"

"That isn't what I want to know. Is she in love with you? That's what I'm after."

"Yes," said he, but frowned anxiously.

"She is perfectly adorable," said she, and was at once aware of a guilty, vagrant impression that she would not have said it to him half an hour earlier for anything in the world.

She was strangely white and subdued when she rejoined them later on. She had removed her hat. The other woman saw nothing but the wealth of sun-kissed hair that rippled. Barnes went forward to meet her, filled with a sudden apprehension.

"What is it? You are pale and—what have you heard?"

She stopped and looked searchingly into his eyes. A warm flush rose to her cheeks; her own eyes grew soft and tender and wistful.

"They all believe that the war will last two or three years longer," she said huskily. "I cannot go back to my own country till it is all over. They implore me to remain here with them until—until my fortunes are mended." She turned to Mrs. Courtney and went on without the slightest trace of indecision or embarrassment in her manner. "You see, Mrs. Courtney, I am very, very poor. They have taken everything. I—I fear I shall have to accept this kind, generous professor of a—" her voice shook slightly—"of a home with my friends until the Hun is driven out."

Barnes' silence was more eloquent than words. Her eyes fell. Mrs. Courtney expressed the hope that Miss Cameron would condescend to accept the hospitality of her home until plans for the future were definitely fixed there a sign that the object of her concern had given a thought to what she was saying.

"You are so very kind," stammered the countess. "But I cannot think of imposing upon—"

"Leave it to me, Ede," said Barnes gently, and, laying his hand upon his sister's arm, he led her from the room. Then he came swiftly back to the astounded arms of the exile.

"A very brief New York engagement," he whispered to her—and then he was gone.

In the ecstasy of passion.

"Yes," she breathed, so faintly that he barely heard the strongest word ever put into the language of man.

Half an hour later he was speeding down the avenue in a taxi. His blood was singing, his heart was bursting with joy—his head was light, for the feet of her was still in his arms, the voice of her in his enraptured ears.

He was hurrying homeward to the "diggings" he was soon to desert forever. He was to spend the night at his sister's apartment. When he issued forth from his "diggings" at half-past seven he was attired in evening clothes, and there was not a woman in all New York, young or old, who would have denied him a second glance.

Later on in the evening three of the countess' friends arrived at the Courtney home to pay their respects to their fair compatriot and to discuss the crown jewels. They came and brought with them the consoling information that arrangements were practically completed for the delivery of the jewels into the custody of the French embassy at Washington, through whose intervention they were to be allowed to leave the United States without the formalities usually observed in cases of suspected smuggling. Upon the arrival in America of trusted messengers from Paris, headed by no less a personage than the ambassador himself, the imperial treasure was to pass into hands that would carry it safely to France. Prince Sebastian, still in Halifax, had been apprised by telegraph of the recovery of the jewels, and was expected to sail for England by the earliest steamer.

And while the visitors at the Courtney house were lifting their glasses to toast the prince they loved, and, in turn, the beautiful cousin who had braved so much and faced so thickly, and the tall wayfarer who had come into her life, a small man was stooping over a ruffled mattress in a room far downtown, glumly regarding the result of an unusually hazardous undertaking, even for one who could perform such miracles as he. Scratching his chin, he grinned—for he was the kind who bears disappointment with a grin—and sat himself down at the big library table in the center of the room. Carefully selecting a pen-point he wrote:

"It will be quite obvious to you that I called unexpectedly tonight. The week was up, you see, I take the liberty of leaving under the paperweight at my elbow a two-dollar bill. It ought to be ample payment for the damage done to your faithful traveling companion. I have the necessary stitches taken in the flesh and you will find the kit as good as new. I was more or less certain not to find what I was after, but as I have done no irreparable injury I am sure you will forgive my love of adventure and excitement. It was really quite difficult to get from the fire escape to your window, but it was a delightful experience. Try crawling along that ten-inch ledge yourself some day and see if it isn't productive of a pleasant thrill. I shall not forget your promise to return good for evil some day. God knows I hope I may never be in a position to test your sincerity. We may meet again, and I hope under agreeable circumstances. Kindly pay my deepest respects to the Countess Ted, and believe me to be,

"Yours very respectfully,

"SPOUSE."

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBOUR CURWENSVILLE

Low Leib, the druggist received on Monday a pair of Golden or Chinese pheasants from a friend. They are certainly a pair of beauties. The birds are now commonly called the Chinese pheasant. The pair were presented to him by Mr. Hamilton, of Grampian. Mr. Leib certainly appreciates his gift and will endeavor to raise a bunch from them.

Orlie Norris is having erected in front of the Arnold property, fronting State street, a handsome porch the entire length of the front of his dwelling. When completed will add much to the appearance of the building. Mr. D. C. Hunchberger has charge of the brick works which promises to be a first class job.

A social dance was held in one of the band rooms last Saturday evening. It was well attended and the best of music and order prevailed throughout the entire evening.

Mrs. D. C. Hunchberger, who has been seriously ill at her home on North Thompson street for a month past, is slowly convalescing and will soon be able to be about again.

A great many Curwensville citizens attended the funeral of the late venerable John Porter yesterday. Mr. Porter held the entire respect of all the people in this neighborhood, hence the large number of our citizens who suspended business matters long enough to pay their respects to their departed friends. He was a good Christian and charitable man, and held the good will and respect of all who knew him or had dealings with him during his long and earthly existence. He had the distinction of being the oldest man in Pike township if not in Clearfield county. John Porter will not be forgotten for many years by his neighbors and friends and many acts of his generosity have come to light since his death that were not even hinted at before his death.

Mrs. Harry Bilger, has been seriously ill at her home on North Pine street, for several days. It may be several weeks before there is any improvement in her condition, although her many friends are anxiously awaiting her early recovery.

Mr. Lew Robins, one of the progressive farmers of Knox township who has a stroke about a year ago, has so far recovered that he was able to visit Curwensville yesterday and greet his old acquaintances and friends.

Yesterday was such a beautiful sunny and bright day that it had a tendency to bring out all of the robins, bluebirds and loquax. It is pretty hard to tell which was in the ascendancy.

The Bickford brick plant will only run five days this week.

Preparations are being made to observe Memorial day in a befitting and proper manner.

Local Chairman M. A. Caldwell has completed arrangements whereby the wonderful war film "The Price of Peace" will be shown at Curwensville next Monday afternoon and evening.

The hours of exhibition will be announced later but a sufficient number of performances will be given to enable every man, woman and child to see the film. District Publicity Chairman G. A. Stewart suggests that the afternoon performances be set apart for the school children of Curwensville and outlying districts in Penn township and that they be accompanied to the theatre by their teachers in order that order and safety be maintained. Watch this column for further announcements.

of how I went after them the second. By the way, you will be interested to learn that he has cut loose from the crowd he was trailing with. Mostly nuts, he says. Dynamiting munition plants in Canada was a grand project, says he, and it would have come to something if the d—d women had only left the d—d men alone. The explosives are O'Dowd's."

Ten hours before Barnes found this illuminating message on his library table he stood at the window of a lofty Park avenue apartment building, his arm about the slender, yielding figure of the only other occupant of the room. Pointing out over the black rooftops, he directed her attention to the myriad lights in the upper floors of a great hostelry to the south and west and said:

"The Price Of Peace"

A five reel film made by your Uncle Sam in which he tells you of the war preparation of America, the embarkment of the stalwart Yanks for "Over There," their arrival at Brest and other seaports, their trip to the front lines, the hell which greeted them from the mouths of smoking cannon and shrieking sharpnel and a thousand other things of heart interest to those of us who were privileged to stay at home.

DRIGGS THEATRE, TONIGHT Admission Free

"The Price of Peace" is well named. It shows graphically what our boys went through to obtain peace---the price they paid. Soldiers of Uncle Sam made the picture on the battle field of France. Uncle Sam buys the films and sends them to us that we may get a closer view of these all interesting things. Mr. Driggs very generously offered his theatre free of charge in order that every man, woman and child might see the picture.

In the evening, the first performance will be given beginning at seven o'clock. Later performances will be given at eight, nine and probably ten o'clock. It is especially requested that all those who can, go for the seven o'clock performance. It is apparent that all those who will go for the eight o'clock performance cannot be accommodated. There is no assurance that a ten o'clock performance will be given.

Get there at seven. It is the only safe way.

A PROGRESSIVE CONGREGATION

The Dorey street United Brethren church is one of our smallest churches and has a total membership of about one hundred grownup and children inclusive. It is a highly progressive congregation however as its handsome church property will demonstrate. Under the pastorate of Rev. W. E. Wissinger this church is making rapid strides along every line and capped the climax of endeavor Easter Sunday when the voluntary Easter offering reached the handsome total of $435.

This sum will be more than sufficient to pay off the remaining debt upon the church and take a large slice off the parsonage debt.

So well pleased was everybody over the generous spirit shown at this time that they have decided to make next Easter's collection an even $1,000.

BUILDING WATER LINE AT BAKERTON

City Engineer E. W. Hess left today for Harrisburg where he goes to take up with the State Health and Water Supply Department the matter of a permit for the construction of a reservoir and water line for the Bakerton Water Company at Bakerton, Cambria County, where the Sterling Coal Company has large operations.

The new reservoir which when completed will impound 15,000,000 gallons of water is located about one mile from the very headwaters of the West Branch of the Susquehanna. The line will be six and one-quarter miles in length and will be of 8 inch pipe. The approximate cost of the improvement will total $70,000.

About thirty-five friends of Miss Ethel Brown gave her a surprise party last evening at her home on Williams street. The evening was spent in playing games and music. Elegant refreshments were served.

JARDMAN SPORTS THE REAL WRESTLING

Sporting men from various parts of the county journeyed to Boardman the first of Clearfield county last evening to witness the wrestling bouts staged by Promoter Katzman. The opening bout between Comical Jack Kroski and Music Box Petrola was a winner. These two lads of nine years each possess all the skill and science of finished wrestlers and for twenty-two minutes they put up one of the best exhibitions of endurance ever witnessed on the mat. Comical Jack finally scored a fall on the Music Box but the amazing feature of the bout was that both lads were in trim condition for another twenty-two minutes of strenuous mat work. At the conclusion of the bout, both lads shook hands like little gentlemen and retired to their corners to receive the plaudits of the admiring throng. Incidentally the sport fans showered the boys with silver coins and today both are planning to buy a Victory Liberty bond.

Catheart and Latshaw was the next attraction and the bo from Turkey Hill gave the Clearfield lad a good hand. Catheart is of excellent build for the wrestling game and while not large shouldered has powerful leg muscles which he continually brought into play against the Clearfield lad. Latshaw was on the defensive all thru the contest which showed that he was using his head as well as his muscles. He put up a game scrap and did not take the count until the battle had raged for twenty-eight minutes.

Jack Paige of Boardman and Henderson put up an equally good exhibition though not quite so interesting as the previous one as neither lad seemed willing to go to it for a fall. Each was wary of the other fellow and a great deal of time was spent in side stepping and feinting. The bout was called by the referee at the end of thirty minutes and declared a draw. Paige is game and Henderson is promising if he can be made aggressive.

The big bout between Leslie Roberts, a mine foreman of Boardman, and Sailor Gordon, a professional, of Punkey. Roberts is a giant in stature and although having little in this respect on his professional opponent he sent the navy to the bottom of the ring deep in four minutes for the first go and finished him in two minutes and twenty-six seconds for the second. Boardman is enthusiastic over their man Roberts and he is to be matched against faster men in the near future.

Wrestling is not the only thing that interests Boardman. A Liberty Loan speaker was on the job and enthusiasm for the success of the loan was at just as high a pitch as over the wrestling.

PLEASANT SOCIAL HOUR SPENT AT BOWLING BANQUET

The Senior men's bowling league and the directors of the Y. M. C. A. and their wives attended a big supper or banquet at the Y. M. C. A. last night. The party was served by the Susquehanna Camp Fire girls. The big gymnasium was beautifully decorated with the American and Allied flags, flowers and bunting.

Almost all of the directors of the Y. M. C. A. and members of the bowling league gave a short talk, pledging their support and cooperation to the Clearfield Y. and the President of the Y. M. C. A. O. Smith and the directors.

W. I. Betts, Wm. Sheeder, Philip Reed, Wm. Bigler, Editor Matt Savage, Herbert Roseberry, Clair Ennis, John Woods and Jack Mohney gave some good three minute speeches. Some of the men's wives also showed that they could speak and when asked what they thought of their husbands staying out so late at night for bowling, replied that "It was alright so long as they ended up each season with a banquet like they had last night."

After the supper the men's wives and best girls were invited down to the bowling alleys and say their husbands and future husbands demonstrate their skill as bowlers. Herbert Roseberry's team defeated Ennis' team in a close game.

The Y. M. C. A. secretary and speakers stated the three important things needed to boost the association were: 1st a good swimming pool, 2nd, two more bowling alleys, and 3d for this summer a twilight baseball league.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a Tablespoonful of Sals if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble. The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork they get in doing this. The eliminative glands clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is bloody, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night, when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in and weather get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delicious effervescent lithia water drink, and, notably, can be taken by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

EASTER SUNDAY AT ST. FRANCIS

A very delightful musical program was given at St. Francis Catholic church on Easter Sunday morning. Milliards Mass in G. was rendered by a full choir.

The solos of this difficult Mass were taken by Mrs. S. J. Waterworth, Soprano; Messrs W. J. Usher, and F. X. Skilleen, Bass; Mr. H. J. Brown, Tenor; and Miss Connelly, contralto. The chorus work was especially good, as were the organ numbers by Miss Teresa Eisenbauer.

THE MEN IN CLASS A1

A sound, healthy man is never a back number. A man can be as vigorous and able at seventy as at twenty. Condition, not years, puts you in the discard. A system weakened by overwork and care, less living brings old age prematurely. The bodily functions are impaired and unpleasant symptoms appear. The weak spot is generally the kidneys. Keep them clean and in proper working condition and you will generally find yourself in Class A. Take GOLD MEDAL, Harleem Oil Capsules periodically and your system will always be in working order. Your spirits will be enlivened, your muscles supple, your mind active, and your body capable of hard work. Don't wait until you have been rejected. Commence to be a first-class man now. Go to your druggist at once. Get a trial box of GOLD MEDAL, Harleem Oil Capsules. They are made of the pure, original, imported Harleem Oil—the kind your great-grandfather used. Two capsules each day will keep you toned up and feeling fine. Money refunded if they do not help you. Remember to ask for the imported GOLD MEDAL Brand. In three sizes, sealed packages.

WILL SUCCEED NATHAN C. SCHAEFFER

Prof. George D. Strayer noted educator of Columbia University, is to be Pennsylvania's new superintendent of public instruction to succeed the late Nathan C. Schaeffer, according to Harrisburg advices last night.

Professor Strayer has been offered the position by Governor Sprout, has had it under consideration for some days and is reported to have accepted.

Professor Strayer was born in Wayne, Pa., in 1876. He received his early education in the schools of his native town, but prepared for college at the high school of Lewistown, Pa. In 1899 he entered Bucknell university. After one year at that institution he went to Johns Hopkins University, where three years later, in 1903, he graduated with the degree of bachelor of arts. The following two years he was a student at Columbia University, obtaining at the end of that period the degree of doctor of philosophy. From that time until the present he has been a member of the faculty of the Teachers' College at Columbia University.

Professor Strayer is widely known as an authority on education, on which subject he has published numerous pamphlets and three books, the titles of the latter being "City School Expenditures," "The Teaching Process," and "How to Teach."

Upon the entry of the United States in the world war Professor Strayer became active in work connected with the conflict. He was supervisor in this country for the Y. M. C. A. of the recruiting of men to carry on the educational activities conducted under the auspices of that organization among American soldiers in France. He assisted in the promotion of the war savings campaign in the public schools of New York city and in the establishment of special schools for the families of war workers.

Prof. Strayer has signified his willingness to accept the position.

All Want to Try New Drug That Dries Up Cuts So That They Lift Off

Good news spreads rapidly and druggists here are kept busy dispensing freezone, the other discovery of a Cincinnati man, which is said to compound any corn so it lifts out with the finger.

As at any pharmacy for a quarter ounce of freezone, which will cost very little, but is said to be sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You apply just a few drops on the tender, aching corn and instantly the soreness is relieved and when the corn is so shriveled that it lifts out without pain, it is a sticky substance which dries when applied and never inflames or even irritates the adjoining tissue.

This discovery will prevent thousands of deaths annually from lockjaw and infection heretofore resulting from the suicidal habit of cutting corns.

A suggestion has recently been made that bricks should be made larger on the assumption that they would be cheaper in bulk that way, and that a somewhat larger brick could be laid as easily and quickly as one of the standard size.

SAYS WE BECOME CRANKS ON HOT WATER DRINKING

Hepes Every Man and Woman Adopts This Splendid Morning Habit

Why is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried, some days headachy, dull and unstrung, some days really incapacitated by illness?

If we all would practice inside-bathing, what a rafting change would take place. Instead of thousands of half-wild, anemic-looking souls with puffy, muddy complexions we should see crowds of happy healthy, may checked people everywhere.

The reason is that the human system does not rid itself each day of all the waste which it accumulates under our present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out, else it ferments and forms poisons like poisons which are absorbed into the blood.

Just as necessary as it is to clean the ashes from the furnace each day, before the fire will burn bright and hot, so we must each morning clear the inside organs of the previous day's accumulations of indigestible waste and body toxins. Men and women, whether sick or well, are advised to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a compound of limestone phosphate in it as a harmless means of washing out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels—the indigestible material, waste, sour bile and toxins that cause, sweetening and purifying the less night has become a more pleasant morning. Millions of people who had turned at constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, nervous days and sleepless nights have become real cranks about the morning inside-bath. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will not cost much at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate the cleansing, sweetening and firming effect upon the system.

HAD CHRONIC STOMACH TROUBLE FIFTY YEARS

Mr. Piets Finally Found How to End It—He's 88 Years Old.

"I had been afflicted for 50 years with chronic stomach trouble and dyspepsia, and spent hundreds of dollars trying to get relief. For years I have had to go to the water closet as often as eight or twelve times during the night, on account of my bowels. I had to be very careful what I ate and could not eat fruit at all. I have used but four bottles of Milk's Emulsion and it has benefited me more than all the other medicines I have taken. I can go to bed now and sleep the whole night, and can eat fruit with out hurting me."—Wm. M. Piets, 813 South 13th St., Springfield, Ill.

When Mr. Piets wrote this letter he was eighty-eight years old, and this is hard to believe at that age. Don't suffer for 50 years as he did. Don't suffer another week! Milk's Emulsion costs nothing to try.

Milk's Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickens the digestive organs in strong assimilation food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milk's Emulsion is strongly recommended to run-down nervous people, and it has produced amazing results in many cases of tuberculosis of the lungs. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. A truly wonderful medicine for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milk's Emulsion. You get this guarantee—Take six bottles (bottle with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milk's Emulsion Co., 1030 Broadway, N. Y. City. Sold and guaranteed by Stewart's Drug Store.

JAPAN AND ITALY BOTH INSISTING ON RIGHTS TO BE GAINED BY SECRET TREATIES

ITALIAN LEADERS ARE ABSENT FROM CONFAB

JAPAN'S CLAIMS IDENTICAL WITH THOSE OF ITALY ARE EXPECTED TO BRING ON NEW CRISIS

JAP CLAIMS BEING HEARD TODAY

By FRED S. FERGUSON

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PAIS, April 22—Japanese and Chinese representatives are to present their rival territorial claims at this afternoon's session of the Big Four. Premier Orlando was again absent. This apparently clinches the belief that the Italians have withdrawn pending definite action of the Adriatic question.

PARIS April 22—Premier Orlando absented himself from today's session of the Big Four. In view of the fact that both Orlando and Prime Minister Sonnino failed to attend the meeting the Big Four yesterday, the opinion naturally is that Italy has at least temporarily withdrawn from the conferences. It is said in some quarters that Italy being temporarily out of harmony with the plans of the conference has stood aside with her claims to permit other matters being discussed. The Japanese demands for ratification of her occupancy of the Kiou Chau and Shantung peninsulas present a situation parallel to Italy's claims. Presentation of the Japanese claims has been deferred from day to day owing to the Italian question.

GERMAN PEACE DELEGATION WILL HAVE POWER TO DISCUSS TERMS

By FRANK J. TAYLOR

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN, April 22—The German peace delegation will have authority to receive the peace treaty and conduct negotiations providing the members thereof are allowed personal liberty as well as telephonic communication with clerks, technicians and aides it was announced here yesterday. The peace mission will consist of about seventy-five men and they will reach Versailles on April 28th according to plans. The Germans expect to discuss the terms with the Allied representatives after which they transmit them to the German National Assembly at Weimar for final decision.

TONE OF OPTIMISM PREVAILS IN DISCUSSION OF THE VICTORY LOAN

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON April 22—"A distinctive tone of optimism over the Victory Loan distinguishes the scores of telegrams arriving at the Treasury department today," Frank R. HILLSDALE PEOPLE PUBLISH APPEAL FOR CITY WATER

Hillsdale, Pa., April 20, 1919

Editor Progress:

Will you give me space in your valuable paper and assist us that much in bringing to the attention of the proper people a condition in this suburb of "beautiful Clearfield" which seriously menaces the health of the children of our productive community.

Here is our situation; listen to our wail; respond to our Macedonian appeal and in the interest of humanity and the public health kindly use your good offices to secure for us the relief we pray for.

We have two schools at Hillsdale with an enrollment of 90 pupils. As the water line of the Clearfield Water company stops at the borough line on Clark street we are without water except that secured from wells and springs. The spring from which our school children get their drinking water is located in the hollow below the school building along the classic banks of the loud-smelling, germ-laden Stinky Run. Surrounding this spring are five barns, the nearest one within thirty feet and the farthest away within 75 feet. In addition to these barns we have seven water closets in the immediate vicinity, all on the high ground which drains toward the spring. The double closet used by the school children is within 20 feet of our water supply. Can you imagine such a situation existing in any civilized community.

We have asked the Water company to extend their lines on Hillsdale, but as we are outside the borough limits they are not compelled to do so and say they cannot do so on account of the expense.

Now it would only mean an extension of about 125 yards and we people to be benefited have agreed to dig the ditch necessary if the company will lay the line and in addition thereto twenty-five families will have the water put into their homes and pay for same.

Now, Mr. Editor, we ask you to publish this appeal in the hope that its publication will arouse the sense of justice in the Water company officials and directors and have them meet us on this proposition and give us water as a matter of public necessity and mercy.

Yours truly

The entire Keystone Division will be home by May 15th.

PENNSYLVANIA'S GRAND WAR RECORD

Harrisburg April 22—In a statement on the records of the draft officer, Wm. G. Murdoch, has announced that the total number of men sent to camp and college were 225,999 of which 205,702 went to camp and 20,297 to colleges. The records show that 21,932 were rejected at camp including the 3,321 men rejected November 11, on account of cancellation of calls. The total number of men accepted at camps for service was 183,770. In addition to this number the National Guard is estimated to have sent about 28,000 men and volunteers enlistments will run Pennsylvania's number to 300,000. Of the men sent to colleges 624 were rejected making a total of 19,675 accepted at the Colleges.

'BOROUGH DADS' IN REGULAR SESSION

Discuss Everything Brought To Their Attention From Sewers To Spite Fences

BIGLER AVE. SEWER ORDINANCE

The regular semi-monthly session of Council held in the Council chamber last evening was participated in by nine of the twelve members of Council. President Fletcher was in the chair.

Street Commissioner Graham reported on street work since last meeting and reported receipt of new road drags.

Borough Engineer Hess reported on Bigler avenue sewer and stated that he had furnished the Solicitor with sewer disposal works data for embodying in his request to County Commissioners.

Fire Chief Hopper asked for an ordinance authorizing removal of fire hazards and defining fire limits. Referred to Fire Department and Borough Solicitor.

Health Officer Farrell reported regarding sanitary conditions on West Locust street and reported a couple of outside water closets in Third ward and condition of Merrill street sewer outlet.

Borough Solicitor reported that he had taken up with the County Commissioners matter of site for sewage disposal works on the County Home farm, but had received no reply up to this time.

Miss Annie Emerick who lives in Third ward back of West Front street complained to Council about an 8 foot "spite fence" erected in front of her home by her neighbor John Shugrue, but as the fence was on private property council had no jurisdiction in the matter.

The Clearfield Clay Working company made objection to request of Clearfield Millwork and Lumber company for the purchase or lease of street leading from Pennsylvania Railroad to Spruce street past their property and the request was refused and the street will remain as it is.

The Sewer committee was directed to look into West Locust street complaint and prescribe a remedy.

The Borough Engineer was directed to prepare data and plan for relief of Fourth street sewer, it being the opinion of Council that adequate relief cannot be given except the sewer be rebuilt from the river up to Pine street.

Mayor Chase asked that matter of improvement of conditions on Third street be taken and suggested that the Pennsylvania Railroad company be asked to fill up between the rails with crushed limestone to add to the appearance and make it impossible for filth to gather as at present.

An ordinance calling for the building of a 12-inch sanitary sewer from

ANSONVILLE AND KARTHAUS ROADS NEED ATTENTION

At the good roads meeting Thursday afternoon resolutions were passed asking the Clearfield county members of the Legislature to introduce bills at Harrisburg for the purpose of having two important roads in this county taken over by the State and placed upon the list of State aid maintained dirt roads with a view to having them improved further following the success of the proposed million dollar county bond proposition.

One of these routes is from Clearfield to Ansonville, via Glen Richey, O'Shanter, Olanta, New Millport, etc. Now for the purpose of assisting Hon. Joseph E. Phillips, who is preparing the bill the people living along the routes affected should get busy at once and have all the people living along the routes sign petitions and get same into the hands of the legislators at once. Each community through which the roads pass should get busy and thus show the necessity and demand for the roads.

The other route is from Clearfield to Karthaus. This is also a highly necessary route and is becoming more important daily, as the down-river country is just now developing properly and rapidly.

Through a misconception at the good roads meeting a resolution was passed directing that this route should proceed from Clearfield to Karthaus via of Goshen. This it is now agreed, should not have been done, as there are many and just complaints from down the line regarding the change from the direct route around through Goshen. There is no question that the prosperous Goshen region should be taken care of in the road program, but those best informed say this is not the way to give them relief, but that they should be taken care of independent of the Clearfield Karthaus route, which should travel the river road straight through.

The bill to be introduced at Harrisburg should call for a route between Clearfield and Karthaus and let the matter of selection of same up to the engineers and the people living along the route and who have to travel it.

The original Executive Committee was continued in office for the year instead of the two changes noted in Friday's published list.

MARRIED IN NEW YORK CITY

John Fox and Miss Margaret Shearer, a well known Clearfield couple, surprised their host of friends last week by quietly journeying to New York City where they had the words said which made them man and wife. Mr. Fox is a yard conductor in the local New York Central yards and has made a host of warm friends during his residence in Clearfield. Miss Shearer has been a resident of Clearfield for several years and is well and most favorably known to a wide circle of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Fox had just returned from their wedding trip when the bride was called to her home in Oriskany, Pa., and on her return they will take up housekeeping in the Shaw flats on Nichols street.

The Progress joins in congratulations.

Sixth street down Bigler avenue was read to Council and unanimously adopted. One-half the cost of same is to be assessed back to the abutting property owners on the South Side of the street, the north side abutting on the Pennsylvania Railroad right of way and can be assessed back.

The question of a garbage dump was brought up by President Fletcher and the Highway Department and Health Officer was directed to look into the matter of the dump on the Penn Public land at the old powder mill site.

Mr. Thorn, of Property committee recommended repairs to the Third Ward Hose house amounting to $300 and same were ordered made.

DUBOIS, GRASS FLAT AND BOARDMAN SPORT FANS HEAR VICTORY GOSPEL

Spirited Victory Liberty Loan meetings are getting under way in the district composed of Clearfield county and Phillipsburg. DuBois took the lead with a monster meeting at the Avenue theatre last Saturday evening and thousands of dollars worth of the Victory notes have already been subscribed at that place. DuBois is going after it in the right way and the other towns in the district will have to step some to keep up with their big sister.

Grass Flat people enjoyed the showing of the "Price of Peace" on Monday night and every citizen down that way speaks in glowing terms of the showing. R. I. Fulton was the speaker of the evening at Grass Flat and in a short space of time clarified whatever doubt might have existed as to the importance of the Victory notes being taken by Mr. Common Citizen.

At Boardman the big wrestling bout was responsible for a big ready made audience and the promoter very kindly and patriotically suggested that the sports of the community be given the opportunity of hearing about the Victory Liberty Loan. Accordingly M. M. Overly and G. A. Stewart were assigned to the Boardman meeting and on their arrival there found the Mystic theatre crowded to the doors for the premier sporting event of the evening. The reception tendered them was one which could only be accorded by a crowd of American sportsmen.

Tuesday evening (tonight a meeting will be held at the Mahaffey High school under the able chairmanship of Andrew McQuown of Mahaffey. Speakers will be on hand from the central office at Clearfield. An orchestra and vocalists will be the features of the evening.

Wednesday evening will see meetings at Westover where the well known Clark orchestra of Mahaffey will give pleasure to the loan enthusiasts. There will also be a meeting at Lumber City on this date.

The schedule for Thursday evening is a meeting at the Bigler M. E. church. Vocal music is being provided and speakers from the central office will be present. There is also a meeting scheduled for Coalport at which there will be a band and a choice retinue of public speakers. Harmony Church Community has also requested a meeting and the request has been granted. An orchestra will be the musical attraction at this point.

Friday evening of this week will see meetings at Burnside where Prof. J. C. Hennig is the local chairman. Here too the Mahaffey orchestra will provide the music. The Burnside Boy Scouts are aiding in the drive there and as it is one of the best equipped scout organizations in the county they can be of great benefit. Karthaus is also on the boards for Friday evening and Chairman W. B. Potter promises that Karthaus will be there with bells on when the subscriptions are counted. In connection with the Dubois.

showing of "The Price of Peace" at Winburne there will be speakers present. Monday of next week will see meetings at various points but the first one scheduled for Saturday is to be at Gees Mills where Local Chairman J. F. Isenberg is whipping his team into shape.

Tuesday, April 23rd, is the date selected for a meeting at Leola, the town made famous by Tommy Gorman, Sheriff of Clearfield county. One F. Toller is the local chairman and that means success.

On April 30th, Chairman J. B. Spackman of Bella Landing has arranged for a meeting at the shore there. An orchestra will furnish the music.

On May 1st, meetings will be held at Irwona under the able leadership of Squire J. A. Green who is also in the front rank for patriotic work. A band will calve the waters of this date there is also a meeting scheduled for the Martinsburg section township. Very many provided. This meeting will be at eight o'clock. Meetings will be held at seven thirty, Saturday, at Karthaus in the evening. On May 3rd a meeting will be held at McGovern's. A band and music is being provided.

On May 3rd, Clearfield will have a big patriotic meeting. A big orchestra of vocalists will be the attraction. Clearfield has never failed.

BAND REHEARSAL

The Fire Department band is rehearsing for the Victory Loan parade.

The local committee is charged with the duty of securing the parade of the Victory Loan parade.

Clearfield has requested District Schaeffer to have his band play the Victory Loan parade. The parade is scheduled for Saturday evening next and a full orchestra is requested in order to make the parade a success.

All former band members are asked to join on both occasions.

CLEARFIELD GIRL REMOVED

Miss Nellie M. GREEN FANCY BY GEORGE BARR Mc CUTCHEON

Author of "GRAUSTARK," "THE HOLLOW OF HER HAND," "THE PRINCE OF GRAUSTARK," ETC.

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I—Thomas K. Barnes, wealthy New Yorker on a walk through New England, is caught in a storm miles from his destination. At a roadside point he meets a girl in the same plight. While they discuss the situation an automobile sent to meet the girl, arrives and Barnes is given a lift to Hart's tavern, while the girl is taken on to her destination, where she tells Barnes is a place called Green Fancy.

CHAPTER II—At the tavern Barnes falls in with a stranded troupe of "barn storming" actors, headed by Lyndon Rushcroft, and becomes interested in them.

CHAPTER III—As the storm grows, Barnes finds himself worrying over the safety of the girl, traveling over the mountain roads in a most dangerous manner. He learns that Green Fancy is something of a house of mystery. Two mounted men leave the tavern in a manner which arouses Barnes' curiosity.

CHAPTER IV—He meets "Miss Thackeray," leading lady of the stranded theatrical troupe, who is acquainted with him. That night he is aroused by the bringing of a dying man to the tavern, one of the two who he rode in a short time before. They tell of finding the dead body of the other man. Both had been shot.

CHAPTER V—The wounded man, regaled at the tavern and Barnes is informed he must not leave until after the inquest. O'Dowd and De Soto, guests at Green Fancy, visit the tavern, apparently much mystified over the affair.

CHAPTER VI—Barnes advances Rushcroft money sufficient to release the company from its embarrassing position, thereby becoming its official backer. He visits Green Fancy and in the grounds meets his acquaintance of the night before, finding her a girl of surprising beauty.

CHAPTER VII—She seems not to be recognizing him, and turns away. O'Dowd appears and in a friendly fashion escorts Barnes (who feels he is in trouble) from the grounds.

CHAPTER VIII—Miss Thackeray warns Barnes that a man stopping at the tavern, ostensibly a book agent, had searched his baggage in his absence. O'Dowd comes to the tavern and with Barnes and others goes over the scene of the previous night's shooting. Barnes is invited to dinner at Green Fancy.

CHAPTER IX—His acquaintance of the storm is introduced as Miss Cameron. The makeup of the house party, particularly a man introduced to him as "Loeb," and the number of men servants about the place, somewhat astonishes Barnes.

CHAPTER X—Miss Cameron informs him she is a prisoner in the house, appealing to him for aid and bidding him to secrecy. In conversation with the chauffeur who drives him back to the tavern, Barnes becomes convinced there is a conspiracy of some kind, hatching at Green Fancy.

CHAPTER XI—At breakfast the supposed book agent introduces himself as Sprouse, a government secret agent. Sprouse tells Barnes he is there to watch the party at Green Fancy, describing them as refugees from a country overthrown by the Germans. He asserts that "Miss Cameron" is a relative of the former ruler of the overthrown country and that she or "Loeb" have with them the crown jewels of enormous value, which Sprouse would recover.

CHAPTER XII—Barnes agrees to accompany Sprouse on a nocturnal visit to Green Fancy, Sprouse with the object of securing the jewels and Barnes with the hope of rescuing "Miss Cameron."

CHAPTER XIII—They enter the grounds in safety. Sprouse, concealing his true intentions, evidently on guard. Reaching the house, Barnes sends up by means of a flying rod carried by Sprouse, a note to "Miss Cameron," informing her of their intentions to enter the house. She tries to dissuade them, but Sprouse insists to her room and goes through it on a quest for the crown jewels and state papers.

CHAPTER XIV—Barnes becomes uneasy at Sprouse's long absence and follows him, climbing by means of the ivy attached to the wall. While talking to "Miss Cameron" a commotion in the house warns them that Sprouse has been detected. Barnes, with "Miss Cameron," clinging to him, makes his escape to the ground. He loses his sense of location and they become lost, finally taking refuge in a small shed. "Miss Cameron" explains how she was deceived by the house, and was to be married against her will to the man "Loeb," whom she reveals as a prince of the house to which she belongs. They are surprised in the darkness by O'Dowd.

CHAPTER XV—O'Dowd demands the jewels, which he thinks the fugitives have in their possession, not knowing of Sprouse's enterprise. Convinced neither "Miss Cameron" nor Barnes have them, O'Dowd puts them on the right road to the tavern, where Barnes gives his companion into the care of Miss Thackeray. Next day O'Dowd tells Barnes Sprouse, whom he describes as an expert burglar, got away with the treasure after killing a guard in the house. O'Dowd and "Loeb" leave Green Fancy.

CHAPTER XVI—Barnes tells "Miss Cameron" of Sprouse's treachery and Fanny, the man known as Loeb is her cousin and he reveals to her the house with the object of possessing himself of the jewels, which were in her custody.

CHAPTER XVII—O'Dowd returns and informs Barnes of the identity of "Miss Cameron." She is of royal blood, a princess, Countess Theresa Mara-Datanda.

CHAPTER XVIII—Barnes visits Green Fancy to secure the wardrobe of the countess. He meets Sprouse, who tells him Loeb got away with the treasure, killing the guard and accusing Sprouse of the murder and robbery.

CHAPTER XIX—Barnes and the countess leave Hart's tavern with the actors, and at Crowndale, where they are to appear, Barnes again meets Sprouse.

CHAPTER XX—Sprouse tells Barnes Loeb is in hiding in Crowndale with his mistress, and promises to rob him of the jewels. He does so, delivering the treasure to Barnes, as agreed, at the same time informing him that he would take it from him if he could, at the expiration of one week.

CHAPTER XXI.

The End in Sight.

Barnes, soaring beyond all previous heights of exaltation, ranged dizzily between "front" and "back" at the Grand opera house that evening. He was in the "wings" with her, whispering in her delighted ear; in the dressing-room, listening to her soft words of encouragement to the excited leading lady on the narrow stairs leading up to the stage, assisting her to mount there; and all the time he was dealing the moment when he would awake and find it all a dream.

There was an annoying fly in his thoughts, however. "I love you," she had said simply. "I want more than anything else in all the world to be your wife. But I cannot promise now. I must have time to think, time to—"

"Why should you require more time than I?" he persisted. "What is time to us? Why make wanton waste of it?"

"I know that I cannot find happiness except with you," she replied. "No matter what happens to me, I shall always love you, I shall never forget the joy of this. But—I cannot promise now," she finished gently and kissed him.

Between the second and third acts Tommy Gray rushed back with the box-office statement. The gross was $350. The instant that fact became known to Mr. Rushcroft he informed Barnes that they had a "knockout," a gold mine, and that never in all his career had he known a season to start off so auspiciously as this one.

Three days later Barnes and "Miss Jones" said farewell to the strollers and boarded a day train for New York city. They left the company in a condition of prosperity. The show was averaging two hundred dollars nightly and Mr. Rushcroft was already booking return engagements for the early fall. He was looking forward to a tour of Europe at the close of the war. "Barnes' sister, Miss Courtney, met them at the Grand Central terminal. "It's now a quarter to five," said Barnes after the greeting and presentation. "Drop me at the Fifth Avenue bank, Edith. I want to leave something in my safety box downstairs. Should be more than five minutes."

He got down from the automobile at Forty-fourth street and shot across the sidewalk into the bank, casting quick, apprehensive glances through the five o'clock crowd on the avenue as he rushed. To his hand he lugged the heavy, weatherbeaten pack. His sister and the countess stared after him in amazement.

Presently he emerged from the bank, still carrying the bag. He was beaming. A certain worried, haggard expression had vanished from his face, and for the first time in eight hours he treated his traveling wardrobe with scorn and indifference.

"Thank God, they're off my mind at last," he cried. "That is the first good, long breath I've had in a week. No, not now. It's a long story and I can't tell it in Fifth Avenue. It would be extremely annoying to have both of you die of heart failure with all these people looking on."

He felt her hand on his arm, and knew that she was looking at him with wide, incredulous eyes, but he faced straight ahead. He was terribly afraid that the girl beside him was preparing to shed tears of joy and relief. He could feel her searching in her jacket pocket for a handkerchief.

Mrs. Courtney was not only curious but apprehensive. She hadn't the faintest idea who Miss Cameron was, nor where her brother had picked her up. But she saw at a glance that she was lovely, and her soul was filled with strange misgivings. She was like all sisters who have pet bachelor brothers. She hoped that poor Tom hadn't gone and made a fool of himself.

The few minutes' conversation she had with the stranger only served to increase her alarm. Miss Cameron's voice and smile—and her eyes!—were positively alluring.

She had had a night letter from Tom that morning in which he said that he

AMERICANISM—ATHLETICS—PATRIOTISM

When we consider that the sporting instinct is inbred in the American it is small wonder that patriotic enthusiasm and endeavor is found in large quantity in a crowd of athletes and sportsmen. A Victory Loan speaker visited the wrestling show at Boardman last evening and received such a rousing reception at the hands of the sports assembled there that he fervently hopes that there is as much sporting blood in every citizen of Clearfield County.

WASTING THE TAXPAYER'S MONEY

No, we do not intend to censure any of our officials. Some taxpayer or taxpayers are wasting their own money. When we built the New High school we wisely provided for beautiful surroundings. Several hundred dollars were spent in grading the lawn, seeding it and getting a good sprout of lawn grass. As long as the place was muddy Mr. Taxpayer didn't walk across it for fear of getting his boots muddy but now that a nice sod has been started Mr. Taxpayer insists on beating a path across the corner from the bridge to the rear of the building. Now in addition to the cement walk there is a regular "cowpath" across the lawn. We mentioned this to the school authorities and they tell us that they have been trying to break up the practice. One man whom they apprehended one morning indignantly replied that "he was a taxpayer and had a right to walk across the lawn." Well, in addition to being a taxpayer he is something else which we cannot call him in this column without offending our clerical friends. It is true that the High School lawn belongs to the taxpayers but we believe the majority of the taxpayers do not want a "cowpath" made out of it. The Board of Education will have the hearty support of the citizens if they bring trespass proceedings against the thoughtless and careless people who abuse the beauty spot of our city.

Peace Is Worth The Price

WORTH ANY PRICE WE HAVE TO PAY FOR IT!

Some of this price we have paid. Many of our boys paid their all. The rest is up to us—to us who have sacrificed—to us who have benefitted by their sacrifices—to us whose peace has been secured.

"Satisfy"

The one thing you've always wished a cigarette would do—SATISFY.

Chesterfields do it. They touch the "smoke-spot." They let you know you're smoking. They satisfy.

Yet, they are mild!

That's some combination for a cigarette to "put across."

But Chesterfields do it!

It's the blend, a new blend of pure Turkish and Domestic tobaccos—and the blend can't be copied.

Try Chesterfields—today.

Lightly and smoothly.

"All things come to him who waits."
But here's a rule that's absolute:
The man who goes for what he will get it all the quicker.

PLANNING THE MEALS

For the housekeeper who "wonders what to have for dinner"—and who doesn't want to spend too much time in the kitchen, a good plan or chart is a wonderful aid. The nice thing about a chart is that it is always growing, new dishes being added as various combinations used which keep the interest in it as keen as playing a game of chess.

It is essential that we so plan our meals that we get into a day's work all the needed nourishment to keep heat and rebuild tissue. If one lacks in bodybuilding material, for example, such foods as meat, eggs, and milk, that deficiency may be filled in another meal. We must care that the growing child has enough of milk, butter, eggs, and green vegetables which contain the growth-promoting substances; if these are out of the diet or not supplied in sufficient quantity, the child's growth will be stunted and no matter how carefully the diet may be watched later in life the weak link will show cause trouble.

To know whether your meals are well balanced or not is not a hard thing for an ordinary mind to grasp. It is necessary to put some study into it and it would seem that a mother should feel that it is vitally important. Fuel that keeps our bodies warm comes from sugar and starch, and from some from fat. The building material is chiefly found in the animal foods such as eggs, milk, meat, cheese, but peas, beans and lentils supply much some, as well as nuts and combinations of vegetables. Fruits supply acids and alkalies to the body—they are body regulators.

The great advantage of a wide variety of vegetables is that they supply mineral matter from them in various quantities and kinds, these are absolutely necessary for health.

In milk, which approaches more nearly the perfect food, we find all the necessary elements; milk will sustain life although bulk is necessary (obtained from coarse foods) for a balanced diet after childhood.

IT'S SPRINGTIME CELERY KING TIME

Blood Cleaning time is here!
What can I give the children and take myself?

Celery King, of course—the food that father and mother takes every spring.

Try Celery King to purify the blood this spring—the cost is almost nothing—the benefit beyond price.

A cup of freshly brewed Celery King every other night will drive poisonous waste from the system, tone up the liver, brighten up the eyes and fill your whole being with the joy of living.

It's just the right spring medicine—purely vegetable.

HELP THE CHILDREN

Mrs. Frank B. Reed, President of the Children's Aid Society, would like to meet any members of the society or any others interested who will give a day's work at the new Children's Home on Wednesday of this week. Please bring your own lunch. Coffee will be provided. ASD-28

OHIO UNIT GETS GREAT RECEPTION

By United Press
New York, April 22—The governors of New Jersey and New York, representatives of the Italian colony and the governor of Ohio, with 10,000 members of the Italian colony and most of New York cheered the 332nd Infantry of the 82nd division as it paraded up Fifth Avenue yesterday. These troops are the first wholly state contingent to be reviewed here. They are veterans of the Piave and Tagliamento Italian campaigns and the parade was arranged in order that they might be guests of the Italian colony.

SENTENCED TO PENITENTIARY

Ralph Cameron, of Philipsburg, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of larceny from the person of Clarence F. Kephart and was sentenced by Judge Bell this morning to pay a fine of $100 and costs and undergo imprisonment in the penitentiary for not less than one nor more than four years.

The robbery took place near Chester Hill about a year ago. After committing the crime Cameron got away and on his recent return was picked up by the State police and placed in jail.

THE SMITHS WERE THERE BOTH WAYS FROM THE MIDDLE

The time has now arrived for claims as to who really won the war and the great family of Smith promptly puts in its claim. It must be admitted that it presents strong figures to support its claim. Already there have been 51,682 Smiths counted in actual service, with several units yet to hear from. This is more than five times as many men as Gen. Scott had in the army with which he conquered Mexico. It is two and a half times as many men as McDowell had in the battle of Bull Run, and as many as Rosecrans had at Chickamauga. So it will be seen that the Smiths, if bunched together, could have won any of the battles in the world war. They not only greatly outnumbered every other family in the army, but they were a very lively bunch, taken by and large.

The name comes from the word "smite" and was formerly applied to all workers in wood, brass, iron, and stone. That is, they "smote" the material they were fashioning. Thus there used to be "stonesmiths," "woodsmiths," "whitesmiths," and we still have "goldsmiths," "coppersmiths," "tinsmiths."

The Smiths lived up to their etymology when they entered the war. They smote the Germans hip and thigh on every field. They held their own in every form of the "spitting" involved. Several were generals, a great number colonels, and enough majors, captains and lieutenants to form a good brigade if put by themselves.

In fact there were enough Smiths in the various departments to have organized and put in the field a new army fully equipped with commanding and subordinate officers, surgeons, dentists, artillery and engineers, signal men, aviators, truck drivers, and hospital attendants.

Great is the name of Smith and many there are who bear it.—National Tribune.

Bates' history of the Civil War records the fact that there were 4133 Smiths in the Union Army, of which 606 were John Smith.

THE ARROGANT HUN

By FRANK J. TAYLOR
Berlin, April 22—The German peace delegates are going to the Paris conference expecting to wreck the Allied peace machine. This is evident today by statements by the Berlin press as well as the attitude of the Foreign Office. The delegates are expected to leave for Paris on Thursday. Oddly enough, the Germans mean to employ the same tactics which brought America into the war two years ago.

NEW YORK'S 400 MISSING AT CARNEGIE WEDDING

New York, April 22—Margaret Carnegie, richest girl in America, today became the bride of Ensign Roswell Miller, U. S. N. R. F., an officer in the United States navy. They were wedded at the New York home of the bride which is at 91st Street and 5th Avenue. It was attended by only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom. Not a single one of New York's four hundred were invited. About a score were in attendance. Miss Carnegie is the only child of the "Laird of Skibo" and will inherit the entire fortune variously estimated at about six hundred million dollars. Ensign Miller is the son of the late Roswell Miller who previous to his death was Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Chicago, Milwaukee, and St. Paul railway but who as fortunes go was not considered wealthy. The bride is 22 and the groom 24 years of age.

Void of the dramatic, this appeal is made to the conservative patriotism of our citizens. We have a duty now just as vital as in the days of strife. To make strong and effective these days of peace, we must support our Government in its obligations with the same interest and if need be, the same sacrifice, as we did the nation in the stress of war.

Five times our gallant boys went over the top, in the most decisive battles of the war. At CHATEAU-THIERRY, BELLEAU-WOOD, CANTIGNY, SOISSONS and FISMES they planted the flag for us. This is our fifth and last financial opportunity to show appreciation.

They Win You On Quality!

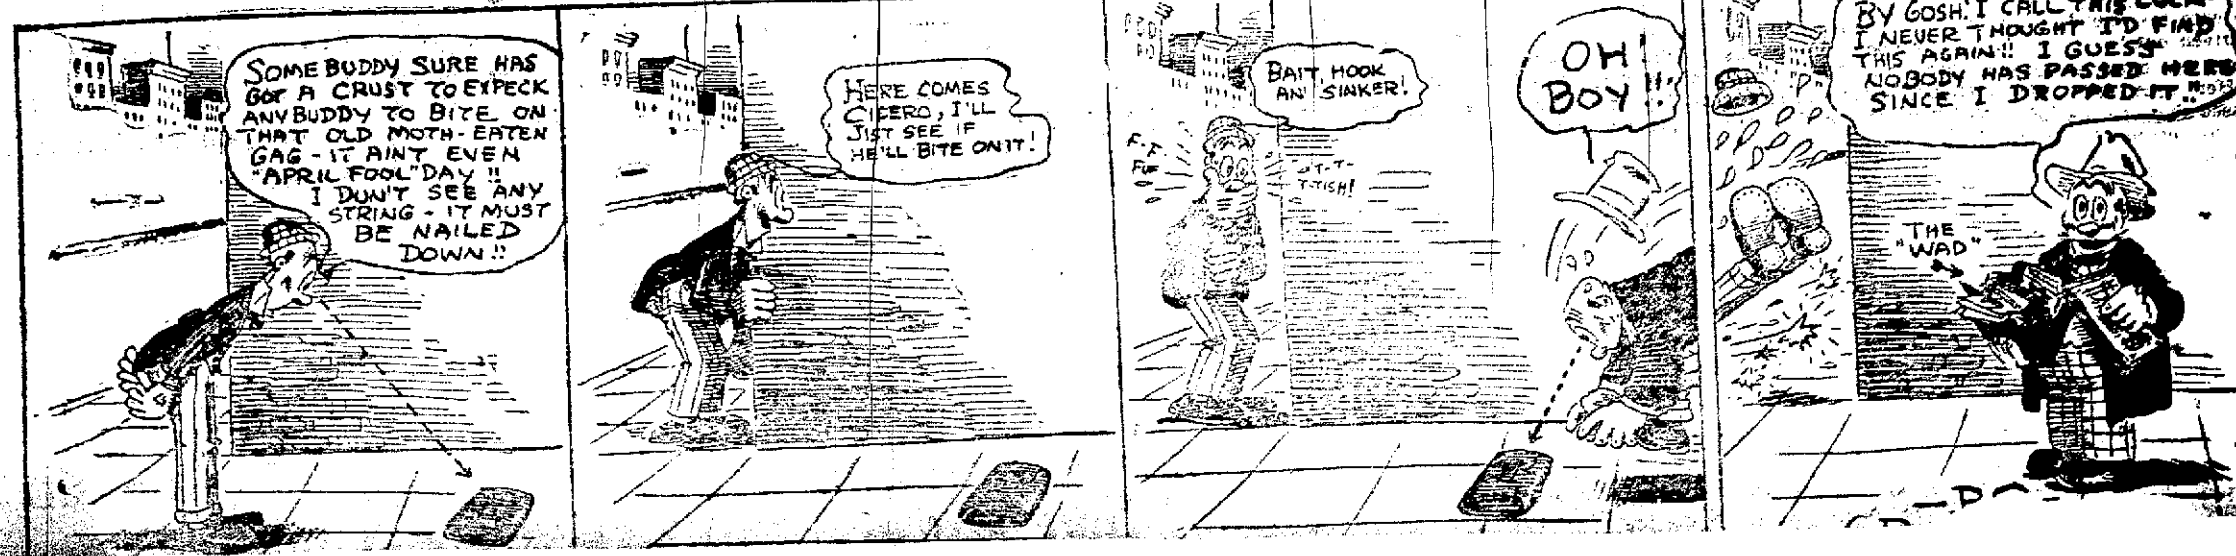

Your enjoyment of Camels will be very great because their refreshing flavor and fragrance and mellowness is so enticingly different. You never tasted such a cigarette! Bitter is eliminated and there is a cheerful absence of any unpleasant cigarette after-taste or any unpleasant cigarette odor!

Camels are made of an expert blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos and are smooth and mild, but have that desirable full-body and certainly hand out satisfaction in generous measure. You will prefer this Camel blend to either kind of tobacco smoked straight!

Give Camels the stiffest tryout, then compare them with any cigarette in the world at any price for quality, flavor, satisfaction. No matter how liberally you smoke Camels they will not tire your taste!

was bringing a young lady friend down from the north—and would she meet them at the station and put her up for a couple of days? That was all she knew of the smiling stranger up to the moment she saw her. Immediately after that she knew by intuition a great deal more about her than Tom could have told in volumes of correspondence. She knew, also, that Tom was lost forever!

"Now tell me," said the countess the instant they entered the Courtney apartment. She gripped both of his arms with her firm little hands and looked straight into his eyes, eagerly, hopefully. She had forgotten Mrs. Courtney's presence, she had not taken the time to remove her hat or jacket.

"Let's all sit down," said he. "My knees are unaccountably weak. Come along, Ede. Listen to the romance of my life."

And when the story was finished the countess took his hand in hers and held it to her cool cheek. The tears were still drowning her eyes.

"Oh, you poor dear! Was that why you grew so haggard and pale and hollow-eyed?"

"Fairly," said he with great significance.

"And you had them in your pack all the time? You—"

"I had Sprouse's most solemn word not to touch them for a week. He is the only man I feared. He is the only one who could have—"

"May I use your telephone, Mrs. Courtney?" cried she suddenly. She sprang to her feet, quivering with excitement. "Pray forgive me for being so ill-mannered, but I must call up one of two people at once. They are my friends. You will understand, I am sure."

Barnes was rising the floor nervously when his sister returned after conducting her new guest to the room prepared for her. The countess was at the telephone before the door closed behind her hostess.

"I wish you had been a little more explicit in your telegram, Tom," she said gravely. "If I had known who she was, I wouldn't have put her in that room. Now I shall have to move Aunt Kate back into it tomorrow and give Miss Cameron the big one at the end of the hall." Which goes to prove that Tom's sister was a bit of a snob in her way. "Stop walking like that and come here." She faced him accusingly. "Have you told all there is to tell, Mr.?"

"Can't you see for yourself, Ede, that I'm in love with her? Desperately, horribly, madly in love with her. Don't giggle like that! I couldn't have told you while she was present, could I?"

"That isn't what I want to know. Is she in love with you? That's what I'm after."

"Yes," said he, but frowned anxiously.

"She is perfectly adorable," said she, and was at once aware of a guilty, vagrant impression that she would not have said it to him half an hour earlier for anything in the world.

She was strangely white and subdued when she rejoined them later on. She had removed her hat. The other woman saw nothing but the wealth of sun-kissed hair that rippled. Barnes went forward to meet her, filled with a sudden apprehension.

"What is it? You are pale and—what have you heard?" She stopped and looked searchingly into his eyes. A warm flush rose to her cheeks; her own eyes grew soft and tender and wistful.

"They all believe that the war will last two or three years longer," she said huskily. "I cannot go back to my own country till it is all over. They implore me to remain here with them until—until my fortunes are mended." She turned to Mrs. Courtney and went on without the slightest trace of indecision or embarrassment in her manner. "You see, Mrs. Courtney, I am very, very poor. They have taken everything. I—I fear I shall have to accept this kind, generous professor of a—" her voice shook slightly—"of a home with my friends until the Hun is driven out."

Barnes' silence was more eloquent than words. Her eyes fell. Mrs. Courtney expressed the hope that Miss Cameron would condescend to accept the hospitality of her home until plans for the future were definitely fixed there a sign that the object of her concern had given a thought to what she was saying.

"You are so very kind," stammered the countess. "But I cannot think of imposing upon—"

"Leave it to me, Ede," said Barnes gently, and, laying his hand upon his sister's arm, he led her from the room. Then he came swiftly back to the astounded arms of the exile.

"A very brief New York engagement," he whispered to her—

In the ecstasy of passion.

"Yes," she breathed, so faintly that he barely heard the strongest word ever put into the language of man.

Half an hour later he was speeding down the avenue in a taxi. His blood was singing, his heart was bursting with joy—his head was light, for the feet of her was still in his arms, the voice of her in his enraptured ears.

He was hurrying homeward to the "diggings" he was soon to desert forever. He was to spend the night at his sister's apartment. When he issued forth from his "diggings" at half-past seven he was attired in evening clothes, and there was not a woman in all New York, young or old, who would have denied him a second glance.

Later on in the evening three of the countess' friends arrived at the Courtney home to pay their respects to their fair compatriot and to discuss the crown jewels. They came and brought with them the consoling information that arrangements were practically completed for the delivery of the jewels into the custody of the French embassy at Washington, through whose intervention they were to be allowed to leave the United States without the formalities usually observed in cases of suspected smuggling. Upon the arrival in America of trusted messengers from Paris, headed by no less a personage than the ambassador himself, the imperial treasure was to pass into hands that would carry it safely to France. Prince Sebastian, still in Halifax, had been apprised by telegraph of the recovery of the jewels, and was expected to sail for England by the earliest steamer.

And while the visitors at the Courtney house were lifting their glasses to toast the prince they loved, and, in turn, the beautiful cousin who had braved so much and faced so thickly, and the tall wayfarer who had come into her life, a small man was stooping over a ruffled mattress in a room far downtown, glumly regarding the result of an unusually hazardous undertaking, even for one who could perform such miracles as he. Scratching his chin, he grinned—for he was the kind who bears disappointment with a grin—and sat himself down at the big library table in the center of the room. Carefully selecting a pen-point he wrote:

"It will be quite obvious to you that I called unexpectedly tonight. The week was up, you see, I take the liberty of leaving under the paperweight at my elbow a two-dollar bill. It ought to be ample payment for the damage done to your faithful traveling companion. I have the necessary stitches taken in the gash and you will find the kit as good as new. I was more or less certain not to find what I was after, but as I have done no irreparable injury I am sure you will forgive my love of adventure and excitement. It was really quite difficult to get from the fire escape to your window, but it was a delightful experience. Try crawling along that ten-inch ledge yourself some day and see if it isn't productive of a pleasant thrill. I shall not forget your promise to return good for evil some day. God knows I hope I may never be in a position to test your sincerity. We may meet again, and I hope under agreeable circumstances. Kindly pay my deepest respects to the Countess Ted, and believe me to be,

"Yours very respectfully,

"SPOUSE."

"P. S.—I saw O'Dowd today. He left a message for you and the countess. Tell them, said he, that I ask God's blessing for them forever. He is off tomorrow for Brazil. He was very much relieved when he heard he not get the jewels the first

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBOUR CURWENSVILLE

Low Leib, the druggist received on Monday a pair of Golden or Chinese pheasants from a friend. They are certainly a pair of beauties. The birds are now commonly called the Chinese pheasant. The pair were presented to him by Mr. Hamilton, of Grampian. Mr. Leib certainly appreciates his gift and will endeavor to raise a bunch from them.

Orlie Norris is having erected in front of the Arnold property, fronting State street, a handsome porch the entire length of the front of his dwelling. When completed will add much to the appearance of the building. Mr. D. C. Hunchberger has charge of the brick works which promises to be a first class job.

A social dance was held in one of the band rooms last Saturday evening. It was well attended and the best of music and order prevailed throughout the entire evening.

Mrs. D. C. Hunchberger, who has been seriously ill at her home on North Thompson street for a month past, is slowly convalescing and will soon be able to be about again.

A great many Curwensville citizens attended the funeral of the late venerable John Porter yesterday. Mr. Porter held the entire respect of all the people in this neighborhood, hence the large number of our citizens who suspended business matters long enough to pay their respects to their departed friends. He was a good Christian and charitable man, and held the good will and respect of all who knew him or had dealings with him during his long and earthly existence. He had the distinction of being the oldest man in Pike township if not in Clearfield county. John Porter will not be forgotten for many years by his neighbors and friends and many acts of his generosity have come to light since his death that were not even hinted at before his death.

Mrs. Harry Bilger, has been seriously ill at her home on North Pine street, for several days. It may be several weeks before there is any improvement in her condition, although her many friends are anxiously awaiting her early recovery.

Mr. Lew Robins, one of the progressive farmers of Knox township who had a stroke about a year ago, has so far recovered that he was able to visit Curwensville yesterday and greet his old acquaintances and friends.

Yesterday was such a beautiful sunny and bright day that it had a tendency to bring out all of the robins, bluebirds and loafers. It is pretty hard to tell which was in the ascendancy.

The Bickford brick plant will only run five days this week.

Preparations are being made to observe Memorial day in a befitting and proper manner.

Local Chairman M. A. Caldwell has completed arrangements whereby the wonderful war film "The Price of Peace" will be shown at Curwensville next Monday afternoon and evening. The hours of exhibition will be announced later but a sufficient number of performances will be given to enable every man, woman and child to see the film. District Publicity Chairman G. A. Stewart suggests that the afternoon performances be set apart for the school children of Curwensville and outlying districts in Penn township and that they be accompanied to the theatre by their teachers in order that order and safety be maintained. Watch this column for further announcements.

of how I went after them the second. By the way, you will be interested to learn that he has cut loose from the crowd he was trailing with. Mostly nuts, he says. Dynamiting munition plants in Canada was a grand project, says he, and it would have come to something if the d—d women had only left the d—d men alone. The explosives are O'Dowd's.

Ten hours before Barnes found this illuminating message on his library table he stood at the window of a lofty Park avenue apartment building, his arm about the slender, yielding figure of the only other occupant of the room. Pointing out over the black rooftops, he directed her attention to the myriad lights in the upper floors of a great hostelry to the south and west and said:

"That is where you are going to

"The Price Of Peace"

A five reel film made by your Uncle Sam in which he tells you of the war preparation of America, the embarkment of the stalwart Yanks for "Over There," their arrival at Brest and other seaports, their trip to the front lines, the hell which greeted them from the mouths of smoking cannon and shrieking sharpnel and a thousand other things of heart interest to those of us who were privileged to stay at home.

DRIGGS THEATRE, TONIGHT Admission Free

"The Price of Peace" is well named. It shows graphically what our boys went through to obtain peace---the price they paid. Soldiers of Uncle Sam made the picture on the battle field of France. Uncle Sam buys the films and sends them to us that we may get a closer view of these all interesting things. Mr. Driggs very generously offered his theatre free of charge in order that every man, woman and child might see the picture.

In the evening, the first performance will be given beginning at seven o'clock. Later performances will be given at eight, nine and probably ten o'clock. It is especially requested that all those who can, go for the seven o'clock performance. It is apparent that all those who will go for the eight o'clock performance cannot be accommodated. There is no assurance that a ten o'clock performance will be given.

Get there at seven. It is the only safe way.

Announcements. Wednesday of next week the picture is scheduled for Grampian.

A PROGRESSIVE CONGREGATION

The Dorey street United Brethren church is one of our smallest churches and has a total membership of about one hundred grownup and children inclusive. It is a highly progressive congregation however as its handsome church property will demonstrate. Under the pastorate of Rev. W. E. Wissinger this church is making rapid strides along every line and capped the climax of endeavor Easter Sunday when the voluntary Easter offering reached the handsome total of $435.

This sum will be more than sufficient to pay off the remaining debt upon the church and take a large slice off the parsonage debt.

So well pleased was everybody over the generous spirit shown at this time that they have decided to make next Easter's collection an even $1,000.

BUILDING WATER LINE AT BAKERTON

City Engineer E. W. Hess left today for Harrisburg where he goes to take up with the State Health and Water Supply Department the matter of a permit for the construction of a reservoir and water line for the Bakerton Water Company at Bakerton, Cambria County, where the Sterling Coal Company has large operations.

The new reservoir which when completed will impound 15,000,000 gallons of water is located about one mile from the very headwaters of the West Branch of the Susquehanna. The line will be six and one-quarter miles in length and will be of 8 inch pipe. The approximate cost of the improvement will total $70,000.

SURPRISE PARTY

About thirty-five friends of Miss Ethel Brown gave her a surprise party last evening at her home on Williams street. The evening was spent in playing games and music. Elegant refreshments were served.

The Japanese Government has decided on an increase of 50 per cent on an average in the salaries of all Government officials.

PEEL OFF CORNS BETWEEN TOES

The Great Corn Loosener of the Age. Never Fails. Painless

A corn mashed, squeezed and crushed, all day long, in between two toes. You can try the desperate "treat you rough" way and try to dig it out and fail. Or you can try the sensible, peaceful painless, easy way and use "Get-it!" It's easy for "Get-it!" to remove corns in hard-to-get-at places. It's a hard-a wonderful painless formula-it has never been successfully imitated. It seeps on the corn, and dries immediately. Instead of digging out the corn, you feel it our painlessly. There's no sticky plaster that doesn't stay "put," no aching that irritates or rubs off. You reach the corn easily with the little cross rod in the neck of every "Get-it!" bottle. It does not hurt the true flesh. Try it, try it, and smile.

"Two Drops of 'Get-it!'—That's All!"

Are you always successful on baking day? Are your cakes light and spongy and your biscuits white and flaky? If not, let us help you with

JARDMAN SPORTS THE REAL WRESTLING

Sporting men from various parts of the county journeyed to Boardman the first of Clearfield county last evening to witness the wrestling bouts staged by Promoter Katzman. The opening bout between Comical Jack Kroski and Music Box Petrola was a winner. These two lads of nine years each possess all the skill and science of finished wrestlers and for twenty-two minutes they put up one of the best exhibitions of endurance ever witnessed on the mat. Comical Jack finally scored a fall on the Music Box but the amazing feature of the bout was that both lads were in trim condition for another twenty-two minutes of strenuous mat work. At the conclusion of the bout, both lads shook hands like little gentlemen and retired to their corners to receive the plaudits of the admiring throng. Incidentally the sport fans showered the boys with silver coins and today both are planning to buy a Victory Liberty bond.

Cathcart and Latshaw was the next attraction and the bo from Turkey Hill gave the Clearfield lad a good hand. Cathcart is of excellent build for the wrestling game and while not large shouldered has powerful leg muscles which he continually brought into play against the Clearfield lad. Latshaw was on the defensive all thru the contest which showed that he was using his head as well as his muscles. He put up a game scrap and did not take the count until the battle had raged for twenty-eight minutes.

Jack Paige of Boardman and Henderson put up an equally good exhibition though not quite so interesting as the previous one as neither lad seemed willing to go to it for a fall. Each was wary of the other fellow and a great deal of time was spent in side stepping and feinting. The bout was called by the referee at the end of thirty minutes and declared a draw. Paige is game and Henderson is promising if he can be made aggressive.

The big bout between Leslie Roberts, a mine foreman of Boardman, and Sailor Gordon, a professional, of Punxy. Roberts is a giant in stature and although having little in this respect on his professional opponent he sent the navy to the bottom of the ring deep in four minutes for the first go and finished him in two minutes and twenty-six seconds for the second. Boardman is enthusiastic over their man Roberts and he is to be matched against faster men in the near future.

Wrestling is not the only thing that interests Boardman. A Liberty Loan speaker was on the job and enthusiasm for the success of the loan was at just as high a pitch as over the wrestling.

AN ORDINANCE

Authorizing the construction of a Sanitary Sewer on Bigler avenue in the Fifth Ward of the Borough of Clearfield, Pennsylvania, to extend from the main sewer at Twelfth street to Sixth street, and providing that one-half the cost thereof be assessed as a sewerage tax upon the properties on the south side of Bigler avenue adjoining or adjacent to said improvement.

Be it ordained by the Council of the Borough of Clearfield in council regularly assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by authority of the same:

Section 1. That a public sanitary sewer be laid out, constructed and built on Bigler avenue in the Fourth ward of the Borough of Clearfield, Pennsylvania, to extend from the main sewer at Twelfth street along Bigler avenue to Sixth street, said sewer to be constructed of terra cotta pipe and to be not less than twelve inches in diameter, and that one-half of the cost of constructing the same be assessed back as a sewerage tax upon the properties on the south side of Bigler avenue adjoining or adjacent to said improvement, which assessments if not promptly paid, shall be collected as provided by law.

Section 2. The Sewer committee of the Council is hereby authorized and empowered to lay out, build and construct said sewer under the direction and supervision of the Borough Engineer, and when said sewer is constructed it shall become one of the public sewers of said Borough and shall be subject to all the rules and regulations for the control of the sewerage system of the Borough of Clearfield.

Ordained and enacted this 21st day of April, A. D. 1919.

PLEASANT SOCIAL HOUR SPENT AT BOWLING BANQUET

The Senior men's bowling league and the directors of the Y. M. C. A. and their wives attended a big supper or banquet at the Y. M. C. A. last night. The party was served by the Susquehanna Camp Fire girls. The big gymnasium was beautifully decorated with the American and Allied flags, flowers and bunting.

Almost all of the directors of the Y. M. C. A. and members of the bowling league gave a short talk, pledging their support and cooperation to the Clearfield Y. and the President of the Y. M. C. A. and the directors, W. I. Betts, Wm. Sheeder, Philip Reed, Wm. Bigler, Editor Matt Savage, Herbert Roseberry, Clair Ennis, John Woods and Jack Mohney gave some good three minute speeches. Some of the men's wives also showed that they could speak and when asked what they thought of their husbands staying out so late at night for bowling, replied that "It was alright so long as they ended up each season with a banquet like they had last night."

After the supper the men's wives and best girls were invited down to the bowling alleys and say their husbands and future husbands demonstrate their skill as bowlers. Herbert Roseberry's team defeated Ennis' team in a close game.

The Y. M. C. A. secretary and speakers stated the three important things needed to boost the association were: 1st a good swimming pool, 2nd, two more bowling alleys, and 3d for this summer a twilight baseball league.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a Tablespoonful of Sals if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork they get slugging the eliminative organs day and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is bloody, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night, when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in and weather get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has a long record for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in uric acid, so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delicious effervescent lithia water drink, and, notably, can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

EASTER SUNDAY AT ST. FRANCIS

A very delightful musical program was given at St. Francis Catholic church on Easter Sunday morning. Milliards Mass in G. was rendered by a full choir.

The solos of this difficult Mass were taken by Mrs. S. J. Waterworth, Soprano; Messrs W. J. Usher, and F. X. Skilleen, Bass; Mr. H. J. Brown, Tenor; and Miss Connelly, contralto.

The chorus work was especially good, as were the organ numbers by Miss Teresa Eisenbauer.

THE MEN IN CLASS A1

A sound, healthy man is never a back number. A man can be as vigorous and able at seventy as at twenty. Condition, not years, puts you in the discard. A system weakened by overwork and care, less living brings old age prematurely. The bodily functions are impaired and unpleasant symptoms appear. The weak spot is generally the kidneys. Keep them clean and in proper working condition and you will generally find yourself in Class A. Take GOLD MEDAL, Harlem Oil Capsules periodically and your system will always be in working order. Your spirits will be enlivened, your muscles supple, your mind active, and your body capable of hard work. Don't wait until you have been rejected. Commence to be a first-class man now. Go to your druggist at once. Get a trial box of GOLD MEDAL, Harlem Oil Capsules. They are made of the pure, original, imported Harlem Oil—the kind your great-grandfather used. Two capsules each day will keep you toned up and feeling fine. Money refunded if they do not help you. Remember to ask for the imported GOLD MEDAL Brand. In three sizes, sealed packages.

WILL SUCCEED NATHAN C. SCHAEFFER

Prof. George D. Strayer noted educator of Columbia University, is to be Pennsylvania's new superintendent of public instruction to succeed the late Nathan C. Schaeffer, according to Harrisburg advices last night. Professor Strayer has been offered the position by Governor Sprout, has had it under consideration for some days and is reported to have accepted.

Professor Strayer was born in Wayne, Pa., in 1876. He received his early education in the schools of his native town, but prepared for college at the high school of Lewistown, Pa. In 1899 he entered Bucknell university. After one year at that institution he went to Johns Hopkins University, where three years later, in 1903, he graduated with the degree of bachelor of arts. The following two years he was a student at Columbia University, obtaining at the end of that period the degree of doctor of philosophy. From that time until the present he has been a member of the faculty of the Teachers' College at Columbia University.

Professor Strayer is widely known as an authority on education, on which subject he has published numerous pamphlets and three books, the titles of the latter being "City School Expenditures," "The Teaching Process," and "How to Teach."

Upon the entry of the United States in the world war Professor Strayer became active in work connected with the conflict. He was supervisor in this country for the Y. M. C. A. of the recruiting of men to carry on the educational activities conducted under the auspices of that organization among American soldiers in France. He assisted in the promotion of the war savings campaign in the public schools of New York city and in the establishment of special schools for the families of war workers.

Prof. Strayer has signified his willingness to accept the position.

All Want to Try New Drug That Dries Up Cuts So That They Lift Off

Good news spreads rapidly and druggists here are kept busy dispensing freezone, the other discovery of a Cincinnati man, which is said to compound any corn so it lifts out with the finger.

Asic at any pharmacy for a quarter ounce of freezone, which will cost very little, but is said to be sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You apply just a few drops on the tender, aching corn and instantly the soreness is relieved and when the corn is so shriveled that it lifts out without pain. It is a sticky substance which dries when applied and never inflames or even irritates the adjoining tissue.

This discovery will prevent thousands of deaths annually from lockjaw and infection heretofore resulting from the suicidal habit of cutting corns.

A suggestion has recently been made that bricks should be made larger on the assumption that they would be cheaper in bulk that way, and that a somewhat larger brick could be laid as easily and quickly as one of the standard size.

Rich Wool Fabrics for Spring Costumes

This remarkable showing of dress goods has a remarkable American flavor. It contains fabrics made in America that the American woman is apt to need for making her spring wardrobe. It is difficult to pick out one particular leader of fashion among the many beautiful fabrics that are here for they are all weaves in popular demand.

You can come expecting to find your choice for tailored suit, coat, dress or sports wear. Prices, as is customary here, are the lowest it is possible to find, quality considered.
